Dear Praying friends,

Our weather has changed to our normal fall weather—cold, wet, and windy. The ladies' Bible study has moved indoors (our apartment) because of this.

Thank you for praying for the construction work on our apartment building. Bureaucracy is holding things up, and the projected start date has been pushed to December.

There have been various health issues (of varying degrees) among our church people and their relatives recently. We have seen God work in amazing ways in the past to relieve physical suffering, and we have also seen Him give grace for people to endure physical suffering that continues. Please pray for the physical struggles our people are dealing with and that these would produce spiritual fruit.

My dad had to take a break from chemo for a while. He needs wisdom for how to deal with his cancer. We also need wisdom regarding some orthodontist care for Nino.

One lady who worships with us on Sundays has a meeting on the 19th regarding her legal documents and permission to be in Italy. She has been trying to get this meeting scheduled for many months.

We plan to help our people remember the significance of the Reformation by showing a documentary on the life of Martin Luther during our Sunday school hour October 24 and 31.

There are often extra opportunities to reach out with the Gospel around Christmastime. I made 3 batches of soap to give to teachers, delivery people, neighbors, etc with a new Christmas tract I am hoping to write. Tom is trying to choose another evangelistic tool to use as well. Please pray that we would have wisdom and effectiveness in planning and executing holiday ministries.

Tom and I continue to spend time with various neighbors, and we pray for spiritual opportunities with them. Please join us in praying for: Alberto, Maria, Piera, Liliana, Mario, Matteo, Simone, Sonia, Tito, and others. I also met a Jewish lady who I have invited over for coffee on the 19th.

Thank you for your prayers and interest!

For the Sake of His Name,

Stephanie (for Tom, Daniela, Nino, Angelo, & Gabriella)
