Dear Praying Friends,

Tom's Sunday morning series on Genesis has not brought in any new visitors, but there have been more downloads of the messages online. Tom has also been working to put together a new hymnbook for our church's use to ease some of the confusion between all the different books we are currently using, make the type larger, and alter some of the keys so the music is not as hard for our people to sing. It has been a long project that we will hopefully finish this month.

Tom has spent much time working on translating books into Italian for use both by the institute in the future and for the growth of the local church. He is about 1/3 of the way finished with the first book. He has also talked with a friend about helping with one of the other books that will need to be translated. There are a total of 8 books that Tom hopes to translate in the course of the next two years. Pray for the continued translation work and for God to use these books for His glory among the Italian believers.

The scaffolding has been taken down around our apartment building (though there is still some on the twin building). Praise the Lord the workers have begun to repair the water damages to the walls and ceilings inside our apartment. They even say they will order the flooring for the girls' room and get that replaced soon. It's inconvenient to live in a construction zone, but it seems like all the moving of furniture and things and the extra construction-related cleaning might be drawing to a close.

Please pray with us for all of the Christmas season opportunities. We have a ladies' Christmas party scheduled for December 2. We will be doing our usual cookie or soap with tracts distribution during the season, though we are running a little behind in deciding about literature or booklets to give. I have not made a final decision on a possible kids' activity.

Please continue to pray for the salvation of our neighbors and friends here in Deruta.

We hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving! "By Him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to His name." Hebrews 13:15
